*Editor's Note: Images and certain reference material which would typically be included within were omitted and replaced with a link where available for the reader to view. This was done intentionally to avoid the site being hit with an unjustified copyright claim as The Daily Sheeple was in regards to this story. Clearly this story is hitting a nerve which is why The Last American Vagabond will not shy away until the Truth is clear.

By now, the disturbing story of #Pizzagate and its ongoing investigation is spreading like wildfire. Unfortunately many have yet to catch wind of exactly what the most essential pieces to this story are, the most important characters, and the implications involved. As usual, mainstream media is either blackballing it entirely, or writing propagandized "hit pieces" on the matter, implying their attempt to slander the evidence and to sway others from looking deeper into it with an open mind.

Even the New York Times did a “fact check” on it, claiming it to be false despite not presenting any information that researchers have unearthed online, or even bothering to explain why said research was deemed untrue. There was also an older, unrelated story titled “Pizzagate” that has since resurfaced, and has nothing to do with the current investigation. Other than showing the obfuscation that is occurring during the Pizzagate investigation, this also goes to show how played-out and outdated this whole, “Watergate” colloquialism has become. The tactlessness of the title and its trivial vernacular, however, do not diminish the gravity and depravity of the research at hand.

To transmute this mercury a bit, so to speak, The Last American Vagabond will attempt to plot out the quintessential points brought up by the anonymous researchers piecing it all together online. Hopefully, newcomers can get up to speed and decide for themselves what’s real and what’s not, as law enforcement and mainstream media are clearly failing to do their due diligence. This is not meant to directly slander anyone/place or preemptively accuse anyone of guilt, but instead is designed to simply provide the data and the links between different threads of research, so that others can understand the investigation easier. A fair and open trial is the endgame being sought by the collective investigating community—but to even get a trial and proper investigation with deeper resources, there must be enough evidence and public support to make an arrest, especially considering the high-profile people implicated.

Additionally, while The Last American Vagabond is merely attempting to provide a road-map of Pizzagate without the aforementioned accusations, it should be emphatically noted that the evidence involved here not only seems to be more than enough to merit the attention of our researchers, but the circumstantial evidence involved in this investigation, by both logically empirical and lawful standards, more than warrants a full investigation into these matters.

This will not be quick, and the reader will not enjoy this. It is incredibly difficult and unsettling to read, but it is paramount that the people fully understand what is taking place here. The hard truth grinding away at the reader’s teeth, and tensing up in their chest, confusing their thought process, is the harsh potential of the thousands upon thousands (god forbid, millions) of innocent children who spend their youth circulating through these sado-occultist pedophilic smuggling rings, only to be tossed into the streets after their youth has aged away. Anyone who feels strongly about the subject has a moral obligation to share this with others, as justice will only be found with numbers. Nobody should have these disturbing facts force-fed to them, but it is imperative that those who would care, should care, and they will not care if they have not heard about it. Here is a good video summary before diving deeper.

Here is an infographic chart that can be referenced in order to see the various links between the different threads and data points. There will also be plenty of links that are either hyperlinked in or sourced below for people to go about their own research on the topic, which is highly recommended before any opinions are formed. This is still an ongoing investigation and all hands are needed on deck, and there have been numerous problems with entire open-source investigation forums being deleted (sometimes with warning, sometimes without), with all research lost that has not been saved by individuals. There are many more threads that are not even mentioned here such as probability of the underground tunnels meant for smuggling and containing children beneath these suspected venues (a recurring theme in the history of research into this pedophilic smuggling ring—something most directly noted by the McMartin Pre-School Scandal of the late '80s), Huma Abedin's connections to Saudi Arabia and their possible connections to child pedophilia, and Anthony's Weiner's connection, Rachel Chandler, the bizarre business named “Buck's Fishing and Camping,” among many other interesting threads. The reality is that there is only so much data that can be reasonably covered here.

This is the rim of the rabbit hole. Hold onto your skirt, Alice, and do not fear the jump.

1) Past History Of High Profile Child Pedophilia Cases

Before assessing the specifics of Pizzagate, it is important to first understand that there have been many high-profile cases of child pedophilia, as well as satanic occult rituals at the upper echelons of power before the current Pizzagate scandal even broke out—most important, it is crucial to note that these cases of pedophilic smuggling rings have never surfaced without heavy affiliations to occultism, and are often heavily linked to drug smuggling. Some of the most prevalent cases are documented in a previous article posted The Last American Vagabond, which include the Dutroux Affair, the Franklin Scandal, the Presidio Military Base Abuse, the False Memories Syndrome Foundation, the McMartin Preschool Abuse, and The Finders Scandal. This article has plenty of links for those who wish to investigate on their own and further understand the details/extent of these cases. For a less extensive look at individual cases, and more of an over-arching analysis, the article below is a good starting point:

Related Reading: American Pedophilia: Prerequisite of a Wealthy Elitist

As with any research, this is only the tip of the iceberg, as many other people and institutions are involved in the disturbing practice of child pedophilia and smuggling. Some prominent people involved include famous media mogul Jimmy Savile (who socialized with Royalty and was knighted by both the Queen and the Pope); the Penn State Assistant Football Coach Jerry Sandusky; and elite financial investment mogul Jeffrey Epstein, who is discussed in more detail below. There are also high-profile cultures like Hollywood and the Vatican, and implications even from WestPoint Academy, which have been the centerpiece of various cases involving child pedophilia. Some of this has come to light through court cases and researchers, while other claims have come through controversial whistleblowers such as Cathy O'Brien, and even outspoken Hollywood stars like Corey Feldman and Elijah Wood. Both stars have discussed the realities of a deep undercurrent of pedophilic child smuggling at the highest levels of Hollywood.

2) Comet Ping Pong

One of the epicenters of the investigation has to do with pizzeria in Washington DC called "Comet Ping Pong." The owner of this pizza place is James Alefantis, who happened to be ranked #49 in the top 50 "Most Powerful People in Washington" of GQ magazine. His ex-boyfriend, David Brock, is the founder of the liberal media watchdog group "Media Matters For America" and the Pro Hillary super Pac, Correct The Record (CTR). Brock also has been described by Time magazine as "one of the most influential operatives in the Democratic Party." Interestingly, the infamous George Soros has contributed sizable amounts of funds to PAC's chaired by James Alefantis; Soros is also a major financier of Media Matters. Alefantis and Brock, for what it's worth, also seem to be caught in some mysterious blackmail love triangle that has embroiled them prior to the Pizzagate allegations.

Comet Ping Pong itself is interesting for a variety of reasons. Firstly, many prominent democrats have held fundraisers there such as Hillary Clinton and Barrack Obama, which is odd considering it's just some small pizza shop and supposedly a family location that is child-friendly. This sparked further research, which lead to the discovery of the Comet Ping Pong Instagram page, which has some incredibly strange pictures and comments that are highly suggestive of child pedophilia as well as torture rooms and hidden chambers hidden beneath this area (abandoned subway tunnels have been reportedly confirmed beneath the area, and reports have also claimed that Comet Ping Pong has not had a building permit in over three years, meaning that there is likely no official record of any renovations of this type done). The account has since been set to private, but many of the pictures were archived by researchers. There is also a lot of strange artwork on the wall at Comet Ping Pong and equally weird flyers for concerts that have strong sexual themes, grotesque vulgarity and overt occultism, which again is very weird for a place that is supposedly suitable for children and boasts an “All Ages” claim underneath the artwork on these flyers. Many of these concerts start late at night and serve alcohol, yet claim they are suitable for all ages.

Some other points of interest include Majestic Ape \(Amanda Klienman\), who regularly performs there, yet has references to child pedophilia in her songs. There are also pedophile symbols in Comet Ping pong’s menu brochures, which seem to match the same pedophile symbols outlined by the FBI.

Independent journalist, Jack Posobiec, decided to go investigate both Comet Ping Pong and Besta Pizza (discussed ahead) by periscoping his dinner there with his smart-phone, yet was promptly kicked out by the police. His description of what happened is quite telling and can be viewed here. Finally, there are hidden bathrooms in the Comet Ping Pong as well as a mysterious backroom, which is often pointed out by yelp customers as quite strange. The overwhelming amount of circumstantial evidence raises an aura of peculiarity and suspicion, but no direct proof of anything nefarious has been found in this pizza joint. The real dirt is found online, and between the connections of the characters involved in this story.

3) Coded Language In The Podesta Emails Leaked By WikiLeaks

The heart of the Pizzagate research essentially stemmed from the Podesta emails released by WikiLeaks. Due to the tireless reporting during the \(s\)Election Cycle of these emails, they were scoured by independent researchers and collaboratively discussed online. As a minor note of interest, due to this connection to the (s)Election hype, there are small but notable elements of independent Trump support who have been instrumental in promulgating this research, which was readily welcomed because of their heavy anti-Clinton stance.

Pouring through these emails, researchers online found high level politicians fancied Comet Ping Pong as a successful political fundraiser venue. Odd as that is, collaborative researchers began deeply researching Comet Ping Pong, Besta Pizza, et cetera, stumbling across their Instagram accounts and much more ... and the rest is becoming history.

Meanwhile, as people investigated the details involving the physical locations, researchers began analyzing the absolute nonsense that was found throughout any and all emails related to Comet Ping Pong. This section here can only remain as a summary, but suffice it to say that when these emails are poured through one by one, it becomes absolutely clear that these food-related words are code language, and this directly implies by proxy that Comet Ping Pong and likely Besta Pizza are indeed fronts for something. If all of the language used by politicians surrounding these joints is code, then it seems an entirely logical point of investigation—if nothing more.

Surely, these people can't be so desperate to "make a pizza" for one another when they are all busy moguls of one sort or another. Why would grown men and women be so continuously and excitedly emailing and promptly responding amongst each other about "cooking" and "eating" all sorts of very basic "foods." One of the primary indications that something strange was occurring here, was the "cooking" relationship to Marina Abramavic's "spirit cooking" "art" rituals (see section 8). Firstly, anyone who is a true occultist will tell you that art is exclusively an expression of metaphysical archetypal concepts, and that any good magician uses their art to further their magick. This is a basic tenet that has been discussed by occultists since occultists have been discussing things. When these people casually laugh off these theories because they were "just performing art," they are denying the truth by obfuscation, and admitting it at the same time.

The discovered coded language used within the Podesta emails appears to be one used exclusively by known pedophiles. This code uses food items such as "pasta" "cheese pizza", and "ice cream," to refer to child pedophilia. They also appear to be talking in handkerchief code, which is even listed in Wikipedia as a coded color system for sex, mostly stemming from underground homosexual movements in the 1970's.

Symbology is admittedly a slippery-slope, and it is recommended that one be educated in the subject when deciphering symbols and their context. Of course, the researchers very well may have been educated in symbolism since they are mainly anonymous users online, and there is also a lot of discussion of FBI-insiders collaborating on the research—angry at their lack of results going after Clinton. Regardless, the correlation is apparent.

As a final point of consideration on this data point, remember that the symbol of the “pizza” has become iconic in this case due to the FBI’s known list of pedophiliac communication symbology. Case in point, Besta Pizza’s sign is accused of being a calling card that is identical of the FBI’s “Boy Lover” logo, being a triangle with a specific style of squiggle(a little ironic that triangles are the center of all this...). Comet Ping Pong’s gimmick of having “ping pong tables in the basement” has also been suggested to be symbolic of “playing” with the children that may or may not be literally kept in the basement.

Here is the circulated list of the alleged “code words.” Despite pizza being reminiscent of the “Little Boy Lover” symbol, “hotdog” is the dialectic code for “boy” and “pizza” is the code for “girl,” for grotesque reasons of biological observation.

“pizza” = girl
“cheese” = little girl
“pasta” = little boy
“ice cream” = male prostitute
“walnut” = person of color
“map” = semen
“sauce” = orgy

Here are a couple emails that are in question using this code:

<https://wikileaks.org/podesta-emails/emailid/19018>

“I consider ice cream, its purchase, and its consumption a rather serious business. We can’t just willy-nilly toss it out and about in casual references, especially linked with the word ‘free’.”

“Lo and behold, instead of pasta and wonderful sauces, it was a lovely, tempting assortment of cheeses, Yummy. I am awaiting the return of my children and grandchildren from their holiday travels so that we can demolish them.”

"Hi John, The realtor found a handkerchief (I think it has a map that seems pizza-related. Is it yours? They can send it if you want. I know you're busy, so feel free not to respond if it's not yours or you don't want it."

<https://wikileaks.org/podesta-emails/emailid/44232>

"Thx for coming out. Always happy to babysit."

For the commonly circulated list of the emails being analyzed, taken from WikiLeaks.org, as supplied by Titus Frost, click here.

4) Jeffrey Epstein

Jeffrey Epstein is a billionaire financier who is a registered sex offender after being found guilty for soliciting prostitution from girls as young as 14. He is the owner of a private island near St. Thomas in the U.S. Virgin Islands called Little St. James, which many now refer to as "Orgy Island." The island is said to house girls as sex slaves in order to please the many famous visitors that come to the island for a disturbing sort of "exotic getaway." There is also a bizarre temple located on his island that seems to have the occult symbolism representing Moloch, which is the same occult symbol that is worshipped during mock sacrifices at the Bohemian Grove ceremony. One of the most famous visitors to the island was Bill Clinton, who is said to have ditched the secret service at least 26 times to ride on Epstein's private jet, often referred to as the Lolita Express. There have been several other prominent names connected to Jeffrey Epstein, such as Prince Andrew, Donald Trump, and Alan Dershowitz. He is quite the man of mystery and is said to only take on clients with at least one billion dollars in net worth. Here is a good video outlining the case against Jeffrey Epstein as reported on by Ben Swann. Suffice it to say that his operation seems to run far deeper than most realize.

5) The Podestas

By now, most people are aware of the recent truths that have come to light about the corruption of the Clintons and their foundation due to the leaked emails released by WikiLeaks belonging to John Podesta, the chairman of Hillary Clinton's 2016 campaign. Points of interest concerning John Podesta (besides his deep connections seen plainly in the emails) is that he held a fundraiser at Comet Ping pong for President Obama; was also the Chief of Staff for Bill Clinton; and joined in on the “spirit cooking” with Marina Abramovic numerous times. He is also an extremely connected insider, as exposed in Abby Martin’s latest “Empire Files” report, for those seeking more information on him and his brother.

Next, there is his brother, Tony Podesta, a hyper-connected and immensely powerful DC lobbyist, who is also quite the collector of some very dark and suggestive art work that clearly references some form of child abuse, seemingly child pedophilia, and also seems to directly reference the likes of Jeffrey Dahmer. There is even an article in the “Washington Life” of guests going to his house and being absolutely shocked and disgusted by what they saw. Tony Podesta is also very fond of the lesser-known artist by the name of Bilijana Bjurdevic, and judging by his art, has some very disturbingly overt images of what can only be considered the beginnings of child sacrifice and torture. It is heavily speculated that Bjurdevic was one of Tony Podesta’s favorite children to abuse, and is thus a survivor of this pedophile ring. Tony Podesta is also friends with convicted pedophile and former House Speaker, Dennis Hastert. Podesta and Hastert did a 3-4 month trip to Japan for the People to People Student Ambassador Program and, according to leaked WikiLeaks emails, they still keep in contact despite Hastert’s heinous convictions. Tony is also rumored to hold his birthday party at Comet Ping Pong of all places.

6) The Clintons

It should be no surprise to anyone doing any type of independent investigative work that the Clintons would be potentially involved in something like this. They are tied to all the big players in the investigation either directly, through their foundation, or indirectly through people they associate with. To begin with, their campaign manager is/was John Podesta, they are close friends with pedophile Jeffrey Epstein, who has claimed he co-founded the Clinton Foundation, and they have a close relationship with Marina Abramovic. This is coupled with the fact that Bill Clinton has been accused of rape numerous times and whistleblower Cathy O’Brien has accused both Clintons of abusing her, although no prosecution has taken place.

This also comes with the added context that the Clinton Foundation has been exposed as being highly corrupt and involved in a “pay-to-play operation” that helps cement aspects of insider politics, which seems to be pointing to a further operation of blackmail pedophilia and child sex trafficking. They also have very close connections to Saudi Arabia, which is also known to have its own issues with child pedophilia at the highest levels of power. Furthermore, FBI whistleblower, Sibel Edmonds, has discussed in detail her allegations of Bill Clinton's "COINTELPRO II," which was said to be his attempt to dig up dirt on surrounding politicians in order to keep himself afloat during his own scandals. In short, this could mean that the Clintons are involved with the collection of this evidentiary material in order to blackmail those politicians who step out of line with Globalist agendas.

As a final note for this data point, the "Beyond Borders" Clinton foundation's building sits right across from Comet Ping Pong.

7) Besta Pizza

Another pizza place that is in question is "Besta Pizza," which is located right next to "Comet Ping Pong" and owned by Andrew Kline. One of the main reasons researchers initially became suspicious is due to it's logo's disturbing homage to what the FBI associates as an official pedophiliac symbol used for communication between insiders. Especially telling, is that Besta Pizza recently changed their logo, once researchers caught on to it. However, the connections continued to be made, and it is now known that Andrew Kline knows John Podesta; is "one of four attorneys in the Human Trafficking Prosecution Unit of the Department of Justice, in the Civil Rights Division;" and is a Clinton appointee.

8) Spirit Cooking and Marina Abramovic

One of the initial disturbing finds in this collaborative investigation was the "art performance" of "Spirit Cooking," that has been enjoyed by the Podestas, Alefantis, and even the Clintons. "Spirit Cooking" is the performance of the witch, Marina Abramovic, and is "inspired" by occult sacrament ritual stemming from Aleister Crowley's Enochian-inspired doctrine of Thelema, which has been loosely categorized as "sex magick," which is often coupled with traditional Tantra in certain senses. However, while Thelema in and of itself is not inherently evil, Thelema has been historically used for much more dark occultism/black magick than Tantra (although some would likely contest this point).

This sacramental aspect is the consideration of human bodily fluids being charged with a specified metaphysical energy and/or perhaps some sort of electrical. In terms of scientific analysis, psychiatrist Wilhelm Reich was known for his practicing analytical theories of what he called "orgone energy," which was the scientific observation of the human body as an electromagnetic conductor of sorts, channeling energy of the mental, physical and spiritual variety in a coalescence that manifested in the expression the physical body. Much like the resins of a plant being concentrated, so are the bodily fluids of the human considered by occultist to have concentrated energetic uses.

While some want to claim this is just “art,” simply being misunderstood, Marina herself has been quoted saying,

“If you are doing the occult magic in the context of art or in a gallery, then it is art. If you are doing it in different context, in spiritual circles or private house[sic] or on TV shows, it is not art.”

So by her very own definition, this cannot be considered art. Additionally, looking at the videos of Abramovic’s “art,” it seems a rather dark practice that even entails mock cannibalism. The spirit cooking dinner in which the Clintons and many other famous guests attended (reportedly, Abramovic is close to the likes of Lady GaGa, Jay-Z, Beyonce’—go figure) was hosted by this performing artist/practicing witch, Marina Abramovic, as a dinner that served as a piece of living art. The whole thing is rather bizarre, especially considering who attended the event, and that many of those attendees are being revealed as connected to this topic.

9) Laura Silsby and Clinton-Related Child Trafficking Allegations

Former director of The New Life Children’s Refuge, Laura Silsby was arrested in Haiti in 2010, for trying to smuggle 33 children across the border. Strong allegations derived from research into the WikiLeaks email data-dump suggest that none other than Hilary Clinton was very adamant about trying to politically aid Silsby during her arrest and jail time and Haiti. Strangely, most of the kids were not even orphans. Reportedly the material was originally anonymously posted to a Reddit forum and has since circulated amidst the tangled web of information surrounding Pizzagate. The original article on the subject can be read here.

10) Madeleine McCann

The kidnapping of Madeleine McCann was arguably one of the most reported missing-persons cases in American History. It was broadcast worldwide and investigated out in the open for the public to see. What’s very interesting is that the police sketches of the sought after suspects thought to be involved in Madeleine’s disappearance, have a shockingly striking similarity to John and Tony Podesta. What’s even more interesting is that according to Victurus Libertas an anonymous FBI insider has confirmed that the Podesta's were in Portugal on the day of Madeleine's disappearance, however, this information is as of yet still not confirmed by a second source. The two brothers were also revealed to be staying at the house of Clement Freud, nephew of Sigmund Freud and a known friend of the Podestas, which is only a third of a mile from the exact location of the kidnapping.

Clement Freud, who died in 2007 and was a known pedophile, was accused by at least three separate girls of molesting them while they were underage. There is a photo that has emerged that many have speculated could be Madeleine McCann playing cards next to what is clearly John Podesta, a few years after she had been kidnapped. Progressive police sketches of what Madeleine might look like at that age are unsettlingly similar. There is also a Fox news clip where they say they know who kidnapped her, but cannot prosecute them due to complications in International law, which is quite odd considering the magnitude of the case.

Many are warning that this specific thread of the Pizzagate investigation might be an intentional limited hangout designed to lead independent investigators in the wrong direction, as well as give mainstream media ammo for the current media war that is underway. As possible as that may be, there is still far too much circumstantial evidence to simply ignore, regardless of the societal stature of those involved.

11) Arun Rao

A man named Arun Rao was caught engaging with an outstanding number of James Alefantis' creepy toddler Instagram posts. What's ironic is that Arun Rao's is the Assistant US Attorney and Department of Justice Supervisor of the Southern Division office for the DOJ's District of Maryland. Comet Pizza is technically in Washington DC, but is practically on the border of Chevy Chase, Maryland, which is Rao's jurisdiction. One of the tasks of his division is prosecuting those responsible for child pornography. This, of course, does not directly implicate Mr. Rao, but it's very odd seeing an individual whose very job it is to prosecute such crimes, being one of the few actively liking the pedophilic Instagram posts of Comet Ping Pong. If these allegations are indeed true, befriending the very man charged with prosecuting such crimes would be a protective step at the very least.

12) Death of Researcher Max Spiers

More of a speculative data point, Max Spiers was an independent researcher that recently died of a mysterious “suicide” that has yet to be explained. What is interesting is that he was supposedly investigating a pedophile ring out in San Francisco right before he died. Being so close to the Pizzagate Scandal, this little piece of information should perhaps not be taken lightly.

13) TwitterGate

November 21, 2016, Anonymous-affiliated “Twitter users @0hour, @Eclipse_OW, and @WonderChick were able to create scripts that tracked Twitter accounts posting child pornography and the accounts that followed them. An estimated 25,000 accounts were found related to child pornography, some of which were active for at least a year, if not longer,” (quote taken from Reddit for its conciseness).

This has become what is known as #Twittergate, which is another Anonymous “campaign.” The roots of a variety of these Anonymous campaigns are highly suspect (such as #OpCharlieHebdo, #OpWhiteRose, and their variety of campaigns against ISIS on social media) not exactly for their direct goals, but for the subtle outcomes of their campaigns, which in these cases basically resulted in promoting media propaganda and further dividing authentic activists.

However, Anonymous as an identity is completely de-centralized, and literally encompasses anyone who decides to call themselves “Anon”—and any real Anonymous hacker will be the first to say that Anonymous social media is likely run on some level by Public Relations propaganda, and that many Anonymous hackers are government agents. This has been the gritty reality of hacktivism since LULZXMAS 2012. That being said, each “Anonymous” activist and campaign should be analyzed independently from one another on an initial basis, and Anonymous as a collective earns a massive “golden star of approval” for their efforts related to #Pizzagate and the affiliated #Twittergate and #OpDeathEater. Anonymous activist, Titus Frost, as well appears to be one of many instrumental characters in the initial popularization of #Pizzagate, having already put up a web documentary on the subject, and creating multiple online debates.

Endgame

It should be fairly evident that there is an abundant and vast array of material here that was not discussed, or was only briefly mentioned, for multiple reasons. Firstly, this is meant to be as easily digestible to the reader as possible and length tends to complicate this function. Secondly, and more bluntly put: there is only so much that can be handed to the public on a platter. At some point, the citizens themselves must maintain a comprehensive self-initiative to garner any real results.

This article humbly suggests that this initiative stem from one's desire to do right by the nation's children. Every child deserves an existence devoid of abuse and exploitation. If there is any reason to mock the conspiracy theorist—with topics ranging from UFO-chasing, Triangle-Hunting, and surveillance paranoia, et cetera—the desire to investigate the likes of a networked child pedophilia ring linked to the nation's most prominent politicians, is certainly not the one. The person who discards this material merely as a “bunch of bologna” based on hearsay, and not their own research, is a part of the problem by proxy. If Pizzagate is even remotely true, even in the smallest regard, the public has a moral obligation to ensure and verify the safety of its youth.

Pizzagate seems very much to be the beginning of this self-initiative. Despite censorship on all forums that have helped conduct this research (at this point, Reddit has banned discussions of Pizzagate), the investigation still runs strong, and has since been adopted by the well-populated and thriving forum of James Corbett's corbettreport.com. With the efficacy of Corbett and his community's results with researching, it is heavily recommended that anyone who wants to engage with the Pizzagate investigative community direct themselves to corbettreport.com.

Whatever be the case, let us not live in denial.

This story is much larger than just this pizza joint, regardless of what the corporate media tries to sell, but take a look at the images below, and ask yourself is that seems normal for a place that has child sleep overs, as well as known pedophilic bands that play there after hours.

None of the images below are criminal to look at, yet are highly suggestive and cannot be simply explained as "out of context," as the context is quite clear:

Most Americans in this postmodern era are well aware that something is wrong. Whether they can say for certain what the cause of this sociocultural virus is, everyone has their own ideas and secret aces up their sleeves that “make sense of everything” and “connect the dots.” Researching threads on the internet has made a real hobby out of this as well; a hobby that can either make an individual all the wiser or all the more lost, depending on their discretion with quantifying and analyzing data sets. Most who come across a story that seems all too unlikely will tend to leave it in the “unlikely” category merely on the grounds of their original assumption, and not because they bothered to look into any of the source material on the matter.

Oftentimes, the claims seem so outrageous as not to merit an investigation—although this is hardly a logical, empirical response to a situation. Yet, this has largely been the response from surface-level, mainstream media-friendly citizens about the overwhelming, interconnected threads of US Intelligence-funded child prostitution and pornography rings that have continued to garner legal, political, and media attention since the 1980’s.

While many feel comfortable dismissing this as “conspiracy theory,” the sad and disturbing reality is that the vast majority of this thread is gathered from thousands of cases of childhood sexual assault. More often than not, the cases were reported along with Satanic ritualistic abuse. With the level of political and otherwise high-ranking involvement in so many of these cases, that has begun to break its way into the mainstream discussion, the topic in general is beginning to create quite an ominous backdrop to the political sphere.

Quoting researcher John DeCamp, “‘Monarch’ refers to young people in America who were victims of mind control experiments run either by U.S. government agencies such as the Central Intelligence Agency, or military intelligence agencies.” Similarly, renowned alternative researcher Dave McGowan comments on the satanic pedophilia cult from Tallahassee, Tennessee called “The Handlers,” and their connection to both the CIA and this prostitution network; suggesting a further synthesis between Satanism, US Intelligence, and pedophilia.

McGowan (who sadly died from cancer in November of 2015, only in his 50’s) wrote the definitive research article on the subject, “The Pedophocracy,” which has an extensive bibliography. To take one of many crucial quotes from McGowan’s article, it is important to impress the ambiguity of child abduction statistics in the US today.

“There is considerable debate as to whether there is a problem in this country with missing children. Some claim that 200,000 or more children disappear without a trace every year. Others steadfastly maintain that numbers such as those are grossly inflated, and that abduction of children by strangers with bad intent is actually quite rare. The problem is that nobody really knows for sure, since the FBI – America’s compiler of crime statistics – doesn’t bother to keep track. As Ted Gunderson, former FBI station chief for Los Angeles, has stated: ‘The FBI has an accurate count on the number of automobiles stolen every year. It knows the number of homicides, rapes and robberies, but the FBI has no idea of the number of children that disappear every year. They simply do not ask for the statistics.’ Many believe that the numbers aren’t compiled because the FBI doesn’t want to know – or more accurately, the FBI doesn’t want the American people to know.”

The reality here is that, whatever the statistics are, there is an overwhelming amount of information on the subject for those interested in looking farther-yet many who research further coincidentally end up dead (Gary Caradori with the “Franklin Scandal,” to name one). The stories range from dingy daycare centers across the country (like the McMartin PreSchool Scandal of the early 1980's, involving seven teachers, dozens more unnamed adults who were never identified, with over 400 serial molestation charges involving ritualistic torture); to Lawrence King's Franklin Financial Credit Union/ Boys Town Scandal of the late 1980's that provided clear financial ties all across DC and straight to the White House's doorsteps; all the way to the orchestrated abductions of children like paper boy Johnny Gosch of Des Moines, Iowa in the late 80's. These MONARCH ties even seep into the Vatican church, with its history of molestation, as well as an extensively reported timeline of hush-hush molestation culture at West Point Academy (McGowan) and others more like the Penn State/Sandusky scandal.

The source material that was not involved with official investigations and courtroom testimonials, were still eyewitness accounts from surviving victims, purportedly of this US Intelligence child-prostitution network again said to be organized by the CIA through the MONARCH Program. This program is a continued subsection of Project MKULTRA which deals with ritualistic abuse in order to induce a Multiple Personality/Dissociative Identity Disorder that fractures a person's self into different identities, in order to compartmentalize intense trauma.

It should be noted that the MONARCH program has strong intrinsic ties to the American Mainstream Pop Culture in ways that have become clearly defined, but not entirely elaborated on. Walt Disney and his company unfortunately come up numerous times in this line of research, with high Disney media moguls involving themselves in the trafficking of drugs and children in numerous cases. Not to mention Disney's still-classified role in the McCarthy Communist witch-hunts, where it was made certain that many people were quietly locked away.

indefinitely without proper trial. It is also important to make note of the personal relationship that Disney forged with J. Edgar Hoover.

Disney's Mickey Mouse Club has been rumored to be a spotlight for some of the "privileged" children of the MONARCH program. Stars like Justin Timberlake, Britney Spears, and even names like Amanda Bynes, Lindsay Lohan, and other "actors" and "actresses" who have lost their mind on national media are said to be members of the program (Timberlake is often considered a high-ranking member now and not a victim). Some consider the US Intelligence's infiltration of authentic Hip Hop Culture (which has more to do with a culture of people and less about "a type of music") to be of the MONARCH variety. For those investigating this thread, the name "Project MONARCH" has become the umbrella term for US Intelligence-ties to Hollywood, California.

Eyewitness accounts of surviving victims taken from books, interviews and court testimonials (and even mainstream news outlets like MSNBC, Discovery Channel, Washington Post, etc.) have implicated some prominent names in association with this grim theme; such as Ronald Reagan, George H.W. Bush, former Senator Robert Byrd, former CIA director William Casey and former Congressman Barney Frank; just to name a few.

It is thought that the series of child molestations at the Vatican are the centrifuge of this child prostitution ring on a networked level; many reports even tie another section of this networking to the Royal Family. Sadly enough, even Gonzo journalist Hunter S. Thompson popped up numerous times in this line of research. The research demonstrates that he apparently acquired a pension for the darker side of indulgences (which he likely picked up during his two-year stint with the Hell's Angels, who are known for their own sadistic ritualism and trafficking of all kinds).

Official testimonials given by MONARCH victim Paul Bonacci are the most damning accounts of Thompson. After the Johnny Gosch kidnapping, Bonacci recounts of a time with another child, on a plane that stopped off in Nevada, where none other than Hunter Thompson was picked up. To leave out the gritty details, it was on this flight that Thompson filmed Bonacci in a pornographic snuff film, which Bonacci was the surviving half of (but not the murderer). As a final note to the subject of Thompson, fans might curiously note his reference to the drug "adrenochrome" in his book, Fear and Loathing in Las Vegas, which is said was given to him by a Satanist, whom had extracted it from the pineal gland of a ritualistic human sacrifice.

Some of the most renowned victims involved with the MONARCH program child-prostitution ring are Paul Bonacci, Cathy O'Brien, Troy Boner, Alisha Owen, and Johnny Gosch. Bonacci, Boner, Owen, and even Gosch were involved in the Franklin Scandal in Omaha, Nebraska with Lawrence King. Mr. King embezzled millions of dollars from the Franklin Financial Credit Union, leaving a money trail that corroborated eyewitness testimonies of a heavily syndicated child-prostitution and drug-trafficking network that lead to Washington DC. Some eyewitness reports even put George H.W. Bush himself directly at some of King's sex parties. The case received national media attention in which the victims were heavily slandered for their accusations. This was done in order to create a case of reasonable doubt via media-spin manipulation that saw King sent to jail for the millions that he embezzled from the Credit Union, and the child-prostitution allegations almost completely dropped. The other key child-abusers involved with Lawrence King in the Franklin Scandal, like Alan Baer and Peter Citron, received small fines and petty prison terms for the crimes.

The full timeline of the events can be seen at FranklinCase.Org, but the highlighted summary is as follows:

Lawrence King and his position at Franklin Financial Credit Union allowed him to facilitate the largest child-prostitution network in Nebraska that involved large sex parties with prominent politicians and other unidentified adults (many of which were local, many of which were not), illegal drugs, and underage boys and girls (some of which were there at their own volition for drugs, and others whom had been abducted). At the time, Lawrence King had forged personal connections with people like Ronald Reagan, the Bushes, Oliver North, and Craig Spence (who was a DC lobbyist at the center of a scandal reported on by The Washington Post to be an alleged CIA blackmail operation involving child prostitution and pornography connected to both George Bush, Ronald Reagan, and others). King's sex parties also reportedly involved ritual Satanism at times, masochism, and sadism of physical and mental variety.

Years later, during the unfolding of the court case of the Franklin Scandal, key witness Troy Boner succumbed to pressures of a possible unjust and heavy sentencing, and began recanting his recorded eyewitness testimonials that matched with Paul Bonacci and Alisha Owen.

(Boner later went on record saying that this was part of a type of plea-deal he made with the FBI and that he only recanted his testimonial out of fear; not because it was false- he eventually disappeared)

Because of Boner's renunciation, Owen served jail times for perjury. Bonacci, who had already received prior jail time, was reportedly given a million dollar settlement for his years of ritualistic abuse by his handlers. Many people, both before and after the court's final word, such as John DeCamp, former Senator Loran Schmit, journalist Gary Carradori and Nick Bryant have since continued research; laying extensive groundwork on the case.

Additionally, in the early 1990's the Discovery Channel fully researched and produced a documentary on the subject entitled, Conspiracy of Silence, that was set to air in 1994, and after a full production-was subsequently cancelled and never aired. However, the documentary can be seen below:

The second story that has become a crucial piece to the media uncovering of this network of child prostitution is the kidnapping of 12 year-old Johnny Gosch and the struggle that his mother Noreen went through to get any sort of legal or political help to begin an authentic investigation for her son. Candidly, the majority of this story is graphic, disturbing, and hard to take at face-value. The entirety of the story can be found in the bibliography, as well as in Noreen Gosch's research novel, Why Johnny Can't Come Home. However, the following information is that which is pertinent to the discussion:

Years after Johnny's abduction (and the Franklin Scandal's court debut), a joint effort between a variety of court hearings, personal research by and for Noreen's case, and the testimonials of a certain Paul Bonacci, revealed that Noreen Gosch's husband (unbeknownst to Noreen) had established connections with Lawrence King and this network of child-prostitution. He eventually offered his son as a possible selection (who was then chosen by the members of the network). Paul Bonacci, who was 18 at the time of Johnny's kidnapping, remembers being chosen to "initiate" Johnny into the prostitution ring by molesting him, where he was then sold and traded to different handlers.

One of the first handlers Johnny was initially given to for distribution was reportedly a man named Michael Aquino who is, “a chief executive of the Temple of Set,” an overtly satanic cult that split off from the Church of Satan in 1975. In addition to these duties, Aquino also has occupied his time serving as a “Lieutenant Colonel, Military Intelligence, in the U.S. Army.” Because of this, he was known only to the abducted children as “the Colonel” and has since become a recurring figure in the research. Bonacci also recalled being with his handlers as they scouted Johnny Gosch with photographs while he was at school, among other places.

Abducted in 1982 at the age of 12, Johnny did not turn up again until 1997, where Noreen reports that he showed up on her doorstep at 2 AM one morning, and stayed for two hours. Corroborating all of Paul Bonacci’s testimony, Johnny Gosch told his mother that he had escaped from his handler from somewhere far away by stealing a car with his friend. Noreen has stated that he at least intended to live nomadically, moving between Indian reservations, maintaining a legal stalemate with his oppressors due to the differing laws of the reservations.

The efforts of Noreen and her supporters have become the foundational groundwork for programs like the Amber Alert System. As can be seen in the above link, this story was even covered by MSNBC, which detailed the scandal that unfolded in the early 2000’s about a press journalist for the White House named James Gannon who many believed (including some people who had worked on the Johnny Gosch case) was in fact a grown Johnny Gosch. Gannon, who had flimsy journalism credentials and a history as a male escort online, was reportedly privy to multiple personal interviews with George W. Bush.

The last key eyewitness and victim in discussion is Cathy O’Brien. In her research novel, Trance Formation of America: The True Life Story of a CIA Mind Control Slave, O'Brien claims that, similar to Johnny Gosch, she was offered by her parents at a young age to this child-prostitution network; further stating that the overarching pathways of this network can be considered as a section of the CIA, founded on research conducted under the Project MKULTRA. O'Brien was also one of the first researchers to equate this child prostitution network to what is considered the CIA's Project MONARCH. She also claims that she was abused by many prominent figures, such as George H.W. Bush, Gerald Ford, as well as others.

A rather pertinent excerpt from McGowan's article, "The Pedophocracy," is a report from Officer Sandi Gallant of the San Francisco Police Department sent out to her superiors, as well as other high-ranking officials, without any raised interest. For her report, Gallant, "gathered evidence from fellow officers and police departments across the country and summarized the evidence referenced in the police reports submitted to her." The excerpt:

"The information contained herein is distasteful and bizarre, to such a degree that one would choose to discredit it. However, research that I have done in this area has revealed that numerous cases of this type are surfacing around the country and in Canada. The similarities in the stories of each child victim used in these crimes tend to give credibility to the information revealed by others. Additionally, the psychiatrists and therapists who have been treating the victims state that the consistency of the stories and the explicit details revealed cause them to believe that these children are telling the truth. It is also the belief of each law enforcement officer who submitted information for this report that the victims are being truthful and that, in fact, children would be unable to make such stories up.

"During my research, similarities began surfacing which indicate the strong probability that there exists a network of people in this country involved in the sexual abuse and possible homicides of young children. These cases appear to differ from isolated cases of abuse towards children in that the crimes mentioned here have been committed with one common goal in mind - that of mutilating and murdering children for ritualistic or sacrificial purposes. Many of the cases reported also reveal the possibility of child pornography beyond the normal type of 'kiddie porn' in that these children are photographed during rituals with some members in robes or other garb and candles, snakes, swords, altars and other types of ritualistic material being used."

A final thought on the matter is the reporting by James Corbett and Sibel Edmonds on the Clinton Administration's COINTELPRO II operation with the Justice Department. This operation allowed Clinton to dig up leverage on numerous prominent Republican politicians in order to keep himself afloat during his own scandals. The majority of this dirt, as reported by Edmonds and Corbett, is in conjunction with claims of a pedophilia ring involving some of the country's biggest politicians—the Dennis Hastert Scandal reported to be just another file dug up with COINTELPRO II.

With a topic of such depravity, that could potentially implicate many of high societal stature and equally high influence, some answers will inevitably remain a mystery. Yet it should be reiterated that there are a vast amount of news outlets, researchers, politicians, law enforcement agents and brave victims who can substantiate quite a few recurring themes that are prevalent and hard to dismiss. Could all of these eyewitnesses really be as unreliable as the courts considered them? Is this just a bunch of hype that has been concocted by sensationalist journalism?

With all of the corroborated information from multiple sources, some of which wear a badge, it seems unlikely at this point to say the least. The level of disturbing information available on actions taken against innocent children (and many connected adults) is enough to merit some sort of attention; if for nothing more than to disprove it! If this is an ongoing issue, those taken could be anyone's children; and based on the many different testimonials, those involved are the politicians and leaders of men that are meant to have the People's best interest in mind.

Despite the sworn statements on the subject from victims and authorities alike, one could still harbor their doubts as to whether US Intelligence is providing a network ring of pedophilia and child pornography—almost exclusively alongside ritual Satanic abuse. Yet if one truly takes into account the sheer amount of independent testimony that coincides, then it seems a truly insidious decision to entirely dismiss all of the claims made here.

What's more, there are undeniable connections to the MONARCH program that have been made in mainstream Hollywood-driven media like Disney and the corporate music industry (which is now just three companies globally). Corey Feldman, now grown up, has become an outspoken advocate against the networked pedophilia that happens behind the scenes in Hollywood, claiming that both he and Corey Haim (and many other famous child stars) would be subjected to unspeakable things during their on-set relationships with powerful moguls, actors, directors, et cetera.

Feldman even claims that this was a contributing factor to Haim's death.

Before Its News reported as well, in December 2015, on the alleged FBI investigation of MaCaulay Culkin being victimized by a variety of Hollywood pedophiles. For those interested in understanding the type who run these sadistic operations in Hollywood, research former pornographic occult-films-director and Satanist, Gregory Dark, who was first known for his work with infamous underaged porn star Traci Lords in the 1980's. Since then, Dark has put those days behind him and produced music videos for artists like Britney Spears, Ice Cube, Outkast, Drowning Pool, Linkin Park, Mandy Moore, Xibit, and some other yesteryear tween music idols that literally aren't even worth casual mention.

Originally provided in David McGowan's article, Greg Dark is yet another small name in the ocean of Satanic ritual pedophilia that seems to have engulfed US Intelligence via political lobbying, Mainstream Pop Culture production, and some of the country's top youth academic societies. Ultimately, the objective is for this information to permeate to the bottom of every cellar in every small town that no one has ever heard of. Places like the underground tunnels in McMartin PreSchool used for ritual abuse discovered during the 1980's. This is in hopes that maybe more people will begin to take a serious look at this, so an accurate and legitimate investigation can begin to take place.

Is pedophilia actually a prerequisite for being a wealthy elitist in America? If so, this has horrendous implications as to the integrity of the country, since politics and media are the main cultural outputs for any given country today. Perhaps an even more disturbing question is this: Are Americans really so oblivious as to be led by the noses by a bunch of sadistic, Satanic pedophiles without even knowing it? It is a harsh question, yet unfortunately, it is one that needs to be asked; especially if someone is considering what type of person one chooses to vote into political office, or what type of musical artists one supports for that matter. Everything has a money trail, whether it's been sniffed out or not—it's just a matter of figuring out if and where the trail ends.

Six Case Studies That Point To A Massive Child Pedophilia Ring At The Highest Levels Of Power

This story is much larger than just one pizza joint, regardless of what the corporate media tries to sell, but take a look at the images below, and ask yourself is that seems normal for a place that has admitted child sleep overs, as well as known pedophilic bands that play there after hours.

None of the images below are criminal to look at, yet are highly suggestive and cannot be simply explained as “out of context,” as the context is quite clear (and the comments beside the images are very important to acknowledge):

With all the speculation surrounding the Clintons, and the allegations that they are intimately tied to a massive pedophilia ring interconnected with occult practices, The Last American Vagabond wanted to present the following case studies to show that the idea of a massive pedophilia ring at the highest levels of power is very real and needs to be addressed. This is not a joke and something people should not take lightly.

To present the research, we would like to showcase a brilliant write-up by a fellow redditor explaining six cases that point to this being more than mere separate incidents or isolated events (Thank you for your incredible courage to do the research and present it for all to see. Your work and time is much appreciated by those in the Truth community). Each case is heavily researched with a plethora of links, both within the article and in the sources section below, for all to do their own personal investigation, as we at The Last American Vagabond often advocate. Each conscientious truth seeker out there must not resign to simply take our word for it, or anyone else's; each must seek their own conclusions. It is important to read this with an open mind and take the time to get educated because this issue is of the utmost importance.

Original Post:

Two high-profile pedophilia cases have come to light in recent years, the abuses of Jerry Sandusky at Penn State and those of famed British entertainer Jimmy Savile. While both cases certainly garnered their fair share of media attention, their time in the spotlight has ended and we are led to believe that their horrific abuses were the result of a lone pedophile preying on children, while esteemed institutions turned a blind eye to their indiscretions.

Occasionally, however, the media would pick up on a story such as "Jimmy Savile was part of satanic ring," or "Jerry Sandusky was part of pedophile ring, victim claims." These stories seem absurd at first glance. Yet if they are investigated further, we are led down a horrific and disturbing rabbit hole of pedophiles populating positions of power in government, finance, and entertainment.

This post will lay out the evidence for an international pedophile ring of massive proportions. The information contained within is of tremendous importance, for we are sitting on our very own modern holocaust, a holocaust of children. I promise that this statement is by no means an exaggeration, and urge you to not be scared away by these walls of text, which are as concise as possible while still conveying the necessary information. Throughout, I will be completely transparent with my sources, and will not beat you over the head with conclusions, but rather present you with evidence and let you decide for yourselves.

THE DUTROUX AFFAIR

I will begin in Belgium, with a case known as the Dutroux affair. This case is important because it illustrates how investigations can be undermined by a cabal able to place its members in crucial positions of power, and how powerful people can be implicated in abusing children. The Dutroux affair was covered extensively by the mainstream media, and was huge news in Belgium, where 350,000 people took to the streets to protest the handling of the case, known as the famous White March, from a nation of just 10 million.

The case begins in 1995, when multiple young girls began disappearing around the area of Bertrix. Young girls had been disappearing in this area for a couple of years but the BOB (equivalent of the FBI) was unable to develop any solid leads. A breakthrough was made when a suspicious white van was reported, and the police were able to trace it to Marc Dutroux, a known pedophile. Dutroux had been released from prison just a few years earlier, after serving a third of his sentence, despite reservations among those involved in the hearing and his own mother, who had warned the parole board that he would certainly cause harm again.

It was also revealed that Dutroux, though unemployed and receiving welfare from the state, owned seven homes and lived quite lavishly, from his involvement in selling children and child porn. It turns out that his mother was right, and Dutroux was responsible for the recent abductions. Girls as young as 8 reportedly starved to death in a makeshift dungeon in his basement, after months of sexual abuse.

The knowledge of these horrible transgressions committed by Dutroux are widely available and thoroughly documented, and though disturbing, are not important enough to focus on this case. Now, I will attempt to highlight the incompetence of the investigating police, and the subsequent cover-up of evidence by the state. Police had investigated Dutroux multiple times without any arrests. Once, they entered his home and witnessed the outside of a makeshift dungeon in his basement, while two girls were being held and starved inside. They even reported hearing voices, though they said they believed Dutroux's story that the voices were coming from the street outside.

Police ignored a tip from an informant, who said that Dutroux offered him between 3,000 and 5,000 dollars to kidnap young girls. Again and again, police failed to act on information, or acted with complete incompetence. Incredibly, Police had in their possession a video tape of Dutroux constructing the makeshift dungeon in one of his basements, and would have saved the lives of two girls who were being tortured while the police held on to the evidence, had they viewed the video tape and acted on it.

By September 1996, the official body count had reached 8, and public outrage over police incompetence mounted. Why had a known pedophile been released so early from his original prison term, and allowed to terrify a country while the police stumbled about, seemingly complicit in the carnage?

When the case transferred from the police to the courts, the coverup became much more egregious. The lead prosecutor, Jean-Marc Conorrette, was dismissed from the case, which drew huge criticism from across the nation. Conorette became a hero because it was his initiative that led to the police actually finding two girls in Dutroux's captivity. He also was instrumental in finding the bodies of four more girls. Conorette would later break down in tears in court while describing the death threats he received when he was still involved with the investigation.

Fuel to the fire would be added when a highly regarded children's activist, Marie France Botte, claimed that prosecutors were sitting on a politically sensitive list of high-profile customers of Dutroux's thousands of video tapes.

Marc Verwilghen, the Flemish parliamentarian who became the most popular politician in the country after leading the inquiry into Dutroux, claimed that many in the Belgian establishment, including heads of government, refused to cooperate, and sought to stifle and ridicule his report. He claimed that magistrates and police were officially told to not answer certain questions, in what he described as a 'characteristic smothering operation.' He was further quoted as saying 'For me, the Dutroux affair is a question of organized crime.' A parliamentary panel revealed the names of 30 government officials it said were complicit in the hiding of Dutroux's misdeeds, none have been punished.

The most important information on the case comes from a victim of Dutroux. Regina Louf was the first to come forward, and was candid about the abuse she received at the hands of Belgium's child abuse networks. In 1996, she named and described in great detail, to a specially assembled police team, the people and places involved in the paedophile ring. Senior judges, one of the country's most powerful politicians - now dead - and a very influential banker were included. The BBC article says,

"The sessions not only involved sex, they included sadism, torture and murder; and again, she described in detail, the place, the victims and how they were killed."

She corroborated that one of Dutroux's associates, Jean-Michel Nihoul, was instrumental in the abuse parties.

"At these parties Nihoul was a sort of party beast while Dutroux was more on the side."

Nihoul had significant connections among Belgian political and financial elite. He confessed to organizing an orgy at a Belgian chateau attended by government officials. It emerged that Dutroux and Nihoul were part of a long distance child trafficking ring that imported children from Slovakia.

Let's get back to the questioning of the witnesses. The primary witnesses to step forward all suffered from Dissociative Identity Disorder(DID). In 98% of DID cases, the person suffered extreme sexual abuse as a child. The abuse that the Dutroux witnesses attested to is beyond comprehension. Louf, and other witnesses, recounted being raped by dogs and snakes, and being forced to witness the murders of other children which were captured on video tape. That Louf spoke the truth about witnessing these murders is laid out here in an excellent manner.

She gave a tremendous amount of detail to her prosecutors that she simply could not have known without being there herself, and there is simply way too much evidence to lay it out here. I recommend reading the whole page, which is as long as a short book, as the research is simply phenomenal. She also reported being involved with Satanic rituals, which I will address in greater detail later in the post.

Despite evidence that linked Dutroux and Nihoul to abuse parties and murder snuff films, the prosecutor that replaced Conorette, Jacques Langlois, completely dismantled the investigation. He sent police out on false tips and helped spread disinformation in the media. Although nearly 100 high-profile people in government, religion, entertainment and finance being accused of involvement in child abuse, no one of significance other than Dutroux was ever jailed. Nine police officers would eventually be arrested in connection with the murders which also contained dozens of suspicious deaths among those who were helping the case. I have only presented a small picture of what amounts to a mountain of documentation on Dutroux. For further reading, look here and here.

I understand that my discussion on the Dutroux affair does not validate any of the claims in the title of this post. It is only one small piece of the puzzle. It shows how, from the bottom level of police work to the top-level of prosecution politics, people complicit with pedophiles can be placed into key positions to ensure that investigations never bear fruit. Now I will briefly highlight pedophile rings that operated parallel to Dutrouxs during the same time period, again in which no high level officials were brought to justice, although they undeniable participated, to illustrate how widespread the child porn and child abuse epidemic is. I will then move on to more important cases.

Parallel Occurrences

In Latvia, three top officials, including the Prime Minister, were named in connection with a pedophile ring in which 2000 children in the country were abused. An online ring known as Wonderland was busted and yielded 750,000 images of children. From the article:

“Wonderland originated in the United States but also operated in Australia, Austria, Belgium, Finland, France, Germany, Italy, Norway, Portugal, Sweden and Britain.”

None of the men charged in relation to the ring served more than 30 months in jail, and only two were put on the sex offenders registry (in the year 2000!!!).

A child porn ring in Mexico was busted and said to have thousands of clients in the United States. Child porn videos reportedly made a Russian ring 410 million dollars being sold in Germany, Italy, and the United States. A Dutch ring was discovered in which images and videos of abuse of infants were circulated. A magistrate leading an investigation into an Italian pedophile ring denounced what he called a “paedophile lobby” of powerful politicians which he said openly obstructed his investigation. French police arrested 250 people associated with child pornography within a year of the Dutroux affair.

THE LINCOLN, NEBRASKA SCANDAL

From here on out the post gets more surreal. These child abuse and pedophile rings are not by any means limited to Europe. Rather, the United States has perhaps the biggest child trafficking epidemic in the world. It is important to note, before I begin the next segment of this post, that the FBI does not track statistics for missing children. Of all the statistics it keeps tabs on, rape, homicide, domestic abuse, what amounts to perhaps the single most important one in terms of citizen safety is ominously missing. Perhaps they simply do not want us to know how bad the epidemic is? It should also be noted that FBI prosecution of major child trafficking rings has been virtually non-existent.

Take a good look at this front page story, published on June 29, 1989. The first chapter reads:

“A homosexual prostitution ring is under investigation by federal and District authorities and includes among its clients key officials of the Reagan and Bush administrations, military officers, congressional aides, and U.S. and foreign businessmen with close social ties to Washingtons political elite, documents obtained by The Washington Times revealed.”

The story never fully hit the streets, as agents grabbed the copies from newstands in the early hours of the morning. Another good article for background before I move on to American organized pedophilia and satanism is this. The first paragraph reads:

“All nine children tell the same story, a grisly tale of being taken out of school and abused in a blue house. They name the same culprit, a school administrator who, they say, performs satanic rituals as part of his twisted routine. In the 14 months since the first child came forward, police said they have conducted 150 interviews and cannot substantiate the claims of the children, who range in age from 5 to 9. Prosecutor Stanley Levco is more blunt: He doesn’t believe them, and he plans to publicly clear the accused.”

I will now talk about America’s own Dutroux affair, which began in Lincoln, Nebraska, in the late 1980s. A good part of the story, minus the Satanism aspect, is covered in a documentary called The Conspiracy of Silence. The documentary was set to air on the Discovery Channel in 1994 but at the last minute, it was pulled and destroyed. We only have access to it now because of a “cutting room copy” leaked a year later. The story begins with Omaha businessman Lawrence King, who was a rising star in the Republican Party at the time. In 1988, it was revealed that he had diverted millions of dollars from the Franklin Community Federal Credit Union, the investigation of which spawned an investigation into a pedophilia ring of mind-blowing proportions. Soon enough, investigators into the embezzlement scandal began receiving reports of sexual abuse.

Omaha newspapers were running stories of how young boys from Boystown were being prostituted among local business leaders and sometimes traveled to Washington. Parties would include sex, and abuse such as “beatings with extension cords while naked.” Immediately, the FBI began claiming that there was no substance to the sexual abuse allegations. The stories of the victims told a drastically different story. “The older sister alleged that King arranged for her to fly to parties in Washington, D.C., and other cities where men engaged her in sexual activity.” Apparently, the abused were all foster children, and they would miss weeks of school each year taking these trips.

The head of the investigative committee, known as the Franklin Committee, Gary Caradori, was also convinced of the rampant child abuse and was determined to bring perpetrators to justice. As a side note, you can view Caradori’s interviews with the victims here. Early on in the investigation, Gary Caradori would meet an untimely death, during a flight on his way to Chicago to review new evidence. There was a scattered wreckage pattern, indicating that the plane broke apart in the air, and not upon impact. The new head investigator would repeatedly lead the committee in the wrong direction, away from child abuse and satanic ritual claims. A state senator resigned from the investigative committee and said, ""I really don't think the things Larry King knew will ever be made public." He also cited concerns about the change in leadership.

A New York Times article confirms that state investigators were given thousands of files regarding sexual abuse from children and testimonies from people involved in the foster care and education system. What happened next is amazing. Instead of indicting the accused perpetrators to develop cases against them, Grand Juries twice ordered the thousands of files to be sealed, and then brought charges of perjury against some of the victims. The mainstream media did their part to defend the grand jury and to marginalize the testimonies of the victims. One of the victims was sentenced to 9-15 years in prison, and spent two years in solitary confinement. 8 years later the woman in question, Alisha Owen, was denied a hearing to commute her sentence. Lawrence King, however, would leave prison after just 10 years, being found guilty only of financial crimes.

As with the Dutroux affair, I have again only shown a small portion of a truly mind-blowing and exceptionally well documented story. Many victims in their interviews cited being forced to participate in satanic rituals, and had named King as a participant. What I hope I have laid out here is that there are certainly child prostitution rings in the United States and that kids are transported across the country for high-profile customers. When people get in the way of these activities, they are silenced or killed. To learn more about the Franklin Coverup (and there is a lot more to learn!!), read this book by John DeCamp, watch this documentary, and view this website which has a great collection of information.

PRESIDIO MILITARY BASE ABUSE

Unfortunately, the next step in this expose takes us to truly bizarre and disturbing places. A particularly disturbing child abuse case involving a military day care center came to light in 1987. Allegations of abuse involving 60 children, some infants, surfaced at the Presidio military base in San Francisco. I would like to point out that this article claims that child abuse allegations had surfaced at more than 30 military day care centers across the country in the previous 3 years before its publishing, including some of the most esteemed bases such as West Point and Fort Dix. It would be impossible to lay out the case for each one here, but I would like to share this quote from the San Jose Mercury News:

“Children at West Point told stories that would become horrifyingly familiar. They said they had been ritually abused. They said they had had excrement smeared on their bodies and been forced to eat feces and drink urine. They said they were taken away from the day care center and photographed.”

At the Presidio, at least 4 children were found to have chlamydia, and up to 60 had shown clear signs of abuse. The most important exposes into the Presidio case were written by Linda Goldston of the San Jose Mercury News. In an article entitled, “Abuse Case at Presidio Quietly Closed By U.S.,” the events are told in chilling detail. The first victims to come forward were aged 3 and 4. Interestingly, the Presidio child care center was not closed until over a year after these allegations came to light. Initially charges were only brought against one man, Gary Hambright, a civilian employee.

Later, however, it was revealed that police were investigating a man named Michael Aquino, a Lt. Col. Aquino was the founder of a satanic church known as The Temple of Set. Army documents showed that children were often taken on unannounced trips outside the center, and many children could accurately describe Aquinos house. The search of Aquinos house got investigators thousands of videos and photographs, and what appeared to be a soundproof room, but charges were never brought against him.

The American Journal of Orthopsychiatry wrote an extensive analysis of the victims of the Presidio. They stated:

“The severity of the trauma for children at the Presidio was immediately manifest in clear cut symptoms. Before the abuse was exposed, parents had already noticed the following changes in their children: vaginal discharge, genital soreness, rashes, fear of the dark, sleep disturbances, nightmares, sexually provocative language, and sexually inappropriate behavior. In addition, the children were exhibiting other radical changes in behavior, including temper outbursts, sudden mood shifts, and poor impulse control. All these behavioral symptoms are to be expected in preschool children who have been molested.”

The San Jose Mercury News expanded on the story a few months later with an article entitled “Army of the Night.” This article dives into the satanic aspect of the child abuse at the Presidio. Satanism had apparently surfaced at the Presidio years earlier. Military Police had investigated some buildings after reports of a man dressed in all black holding a little girls hand had been reported. An MP was recorded as saying:

“We kicked the door open and here’s this nice little bedroom. In a corner was a mannequin with a gun aimed at the door. On the left side there was a bunk against the wall. There was a pentagram on the floor, a huge one. There were dolls’ heads all over the ceiling, just off-the-wall stuff... We were sitting there, we’ve got a cult on the Presidio of San Francisco and nobody cares about it.

“We were told by the provost marshal to just forget about it.”

As a side note, in February 1987, Aquino appeared on the Oprah Winfrey show and gave a passionate defense of his Satanic beliefs. On the Autumnal equinox of 1987, an occult day of importance, fire would strike a building adjacent to the day care center, destroying many records relating to the center. A month later, fire would destroy the day care center itself. The ATF found that the causes of both fires had been arson, contrary to the Army which claimed faulty wiring. Prosecutors would once again bring charges against Gary Hambright, but suspiciously they did not include the allegations of children with serious documented abuse such as missing hymens and rectal lesions. Apparently the children were chosen on the basis of who would make the best witnesses. The strategy did not pan out, the judge ruled the charges as “too vague” and Hambright walked free, and no charges were again brought against the Presidio military base day care center.

FALSE MEMORIES SYNDROME FOUNDATION

The next case I will address is known as the McMartin Preschool abuse scandal. But before I delve into that, I need to address the False Memories Syndrome Foundation, FMSF. They are a prominent group promoting the idea that children who claim they have been abused in satanic rituals have either wild imaginations, or were prodded along by zealot psychologists. They have been tremendously successful in their mission. Recently a Reddit post promoting the false memory theory received over 2000 upvotes in r/TIL. Members of FMSF have been called to appear as expert witnesses in dozens of court cases. I have already established that there have been hundreds of different children reporting satanic abuse not only across the country, but in different continents as well. This alone should be enough to make the false memory theory very flimsy.

However, there is a lot more interesting information about the FMSF to discuss. A huge amount of members within the FMSF have not only been accused of pedophilia themselves, but are also a part of the military industrial complex. Peter J. Freyd founded the FMSF after being accused of sexual abuse by his daughter. David Dinges, a member of the scientific advisory board of the FMSF, was involved with Navy Intelligence. Harold Leif was involved with CIA mind control experiments. Paul McHugh has been a very vocal critic of Dissociative Identity Disorder and has worked at many military hospitals. Martin T. Orne was funded by MKULTRA Harvard Crimson. Ralph Underwager claimed it was 'gods will' when adults engage in sex with children. There are more suspicious members of the FMSF but I feel that this list suffices.

I will end this paragraph with a quote from the Columbia Journalism Review:

"Rarely has such a strange and little-understood organization had such a profound effect on media coverage of such a controversial matter. The [False Memory Syndrome] foundation is an aggressive, well-financed PR machine adept at manipulating the press, harassing its critics, and mobilizing a diverse army of psychiatrists, outspoken academics, expert defense witnesses, litigious lawyers, Freud bashers, critics of psychotherapy, and devastated parents."

MCMARTIN PRESCHOOL ABUSE

Now, on to the McMartin Preschool case. The McMartin preschool, located in California, was the center of a massive child prostitution and pornography ring, and appears to be the center of an equally massive coverup. Concerns began in August 1983, when a mother told police that her two-year old son had been sexually abused. By 1984, 360 children had come forward claiming abuse. A significant number showed physical evidence of abuse. These kids also described wild satanic rituals they were forced to participate in, such as eating feces, necrophilia and coprophilia, with some claims as bizarre as a babies head being chopped off, and being forced to drink the blood. The children told stories of being transported in underground tunnels.

The mainstream media did their best to discredit the tunnel theory. However, archeologist E. Gary Stickel, PhD conducted a study of the McMartin preschool grounds, which you can read here. The survey was conducted in 1990, after the property had been sold, and long after charges against the abuse perpetrators had been dropped, and the victims thoroughly marginalized in the mainstream media, with help from the FMSF. Stickel found two extensive tunnel systems underneath the preschool, which accurately reflected the testimonies given by the children.

In summation, the media and government would have us believe that 360 children all invented false memories of horrific satanic abuse, of participating in rituals in which adults sheathed in black ceremonial robes uttered chants, that they lied about being transported for prostitution across town, and that they lied about being photographed and videotaped for child pornography, despite verification of emotional and physical abuse in most of the children as well as the existence of tunnels under the complex. Again, the victims were marginalized in the press, the FBI denied any legitimate claims, the prosecution harassed victims endlessly in court, and all charges were eventually dropped.

THE FINDERS

In 1987 the New York Times ran a story about a little known cult called “The Finders.” The first paragraph reads:

“Police officials here said today that six disheveled children found in Tallahassee, Fla., might be the offspring of members of a little-known cult, but the officials said they had not ruled out the possibility of kidnapping.”

The Finders had previously been described in the media:

“In appearance, the Finders—mostly middle-aged men, always in dark suits—wouldn’t be out of place managing a local funeral home. But the behavior of the handful of adherents has people wondering whether they arrived by flying saucer.

Townpeople say the Finders constantly walk the streets, following people home and taking extensive notes and pictures. They often appear at local council meetings, never saying a word but simply observing the scene. At other times, they plunder the visitor’s center of brochures, maps, and local travel guides. And they haunt the courthouse, scouring land deeds to find out who owns the local real estate.”

Who are these suspicious people, and what were they doing with 6 undocumented children, transporting them across the country? The children were found to show signs of sexual abuse. Customs agents raided one the Finders compounds, and found detailed instructions on obtaining children for unknown purposes and several photographs of nude children.

The US News and World Report article continues:

“The more the police learned about the Finders, the more bizarre they seemed: There were suggestions of child abuse, Satanism, dealing in pornography and ritualistic animal slaughter. None of the allegations was ever proved, however. The child abuse charges against the two men in Tallahassee were dropped.”

The stories about The Finders quickly died down, but would not disappear entirely, as rumors linking The Finders to the CIA persisted. According to the US News and World Report,

“Customs Service documents reveal that in 1987, when Customs agents sought to examine the evidence gathered by Washington, D.C., police, they were told that the Finders investigation ‘had become a CIA internal matter.’ The police report on the case had been classified secret.”

Florida congressman Tom Lewis was quoted as saying:

“‘Could our own government have something to do with this Finders organization and turned their backs on these children? That’s what all the evidence points to,’ says Lewis. ‘And there’s a lot of evidence. I can tell you this: We’ve got a lot of people scrambling, and that wouldn’t be happening if there was nothing here.’”

A connection was produced, and confirmed by the CIA: A firm that provided computer training to CIA officers also employed several members of the Finders. Anyone researching the CIA will come to the conclusion that the organization does not contract training out to other sources, it only ever creates proprietary organizations.

This was an extensive compilation of research that should not be taken at face value, as nothing today truly should, but should be used as a starting point for those wanting to know the truth and not the State-sponsored comforting lie. That is not to imply that the information is suspect or possibly incorrect, but rather that with such a profoundly disturbing and relevant topic such as this, it is paramount that one come to their own conclusions and not simply accept another’s findings. All of the information here within is sourced back to mainstream sources(for those who still feel that holds some measure of legitimacy) and actual documented events and investigations. Please forward this to anyone who needs to see actual documentation of events.
